	Dotteral – Salon – Lovely sharp and in-focus images. Four of the images tell the story, while the bottom left image is perhaps not needed. A computer-generated title tends to be rather neater than a hand-written one. Merit
	Heart of Flower – Intermediate – A beautiful presentation with lovely colours. The right-hand and centre ones are lovely and sharp, but the left-hand one has a bit too much of it blurred. Perhaps a bit more of a crop cold have remedied this. Merit
	Fiordland in Green – Salon –The images are sharp and clear, however, the judges felt that the waterfall image felt a bit crowded, and took away from the overall feel. The display certainly depicts the area well, though. H/C
	Front On – Salon – The rust-coloured background certainly ties in well with the rust showing on most of the images, and the looks of each of the cars ties in to make a cohesive whole. And the title fits well. Honours.
	Digger Working on the Beach – Salon – Nice sharp images with good colour. Do watch cropping, though, as the tight cropping has lost a part of some of the machines making the images look incomplete. A nice presentation. Merit
	1. Point Nash Lighthouse – Novice – Well titled with a lovely image at the top. The idea of an outside and several inside shots is good, but the judges were a bit confused with the portrait image, and wondered if it may be upside down. This is certainly an interesting subject. Merit A point to note for all entries – please beware and be aware of the damage celotape can do, and try to avoid its use if possible.
	Blackberries and Friends – Intermediate – Nicely presented with the background nicely done. The macro photography is nice and sharp and tells a nice story from left to right. H/C
	Droplets – Salon – A great presentation with good colour and balance. Each individual image could stand alone. Honours
	Runner-up – Front On Winner - Droplets
